

Younger Set To Reign for Holly Season

Many Affairs Scheduled for City, While Number of Large Dances Will Be Held in Country Clubs

Tuxedo Club Fete On New Year's Eve

Balls Will Be Given at the Piping Rock and Rockaway Hunting Clubs

THE next two weeks will be the busiest of the season for the younger members of society, and many affairs for the debutantes have been planned. The boys and girls home from school and college for the holidays will add to the gaieties, and they will be extensively entertained. In addition to the many affairs scheduled for the city there will be a number of large and brilliant dances at the country clubs in the neighborhood of New York.

A New Year's Eve dance will be held at the Tuxedo Club, Tuxedo Park, on Saturday, December 30. The Piping Rock Club at Locust Valley, Long Island, will have a large dance on December 31, and on the same night a smart dance will be held at the Rockaway Hunting Club at Cedarhurst, Long Island.

Entertainment Schedule Includes Several Debuts

Among the entertainments scheduled for the week in town is a reception to-morrow for Miss Gertrude De Lancy Watts, who has been in school in England for the last three years and only returned a few days ago. It will mark her formal debut in society, and the reception will be given by her mother, Mrs. Townsend Morgan, at 186 East Sixty-first Street.

Mrs. Thomas A. Cawthra, of 40 East Sixty-second Street, will give a tea dance on Thursday at Sherry's to introduce her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Ruth Cawthra.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. B. Page, of 390 Park Avenue, have taken the restaurant floor of Sherry's for a dance on Friday night to introduce their daughter, Miss Ruth E. Page.

On the same night Mrs. John Prentice Kellogg will give a dinner dance at Piers for her debutante daughter, Miss Barbara Kellogg.

Miss Emily D. Schiewind will be introduced to society on Friday at a dance to be given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schiewind, at their home, 8 East Seventy-ninth Street.

On Saturday night Mrs. N. Thayer Robb will give a dance at the Ritz-Carlton for her debutante daughter, Miss Cornelia Van Rensselaer Robb. It will be preceded by dinners to be given by Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell, for Miss Marie Brooke; by Mrs. Rufus L. Patterson, for Miss Cornelia T. Livingston; and by Miss Louise Barber, for Miss Louise Yandell Barber.

Mrs. Garrett B. Kip will give a reception at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Saturday for her debutante daughter, Miss Carole de Freyter Kip.

Tuxedo Club Arranges For New Year's Dance

A New Year's dance will be held at the Tuxedo Club, in Tuxedo Park, Saturday night, December 30. There will be numerous dinners given before the dance in the private homes of the Park, and a "Dutch treat" dinner will be held at the club for about one hundred.

The dance is under the direction of the house committee of the Tuxedo Club, of which Major Pierre Lorillard is chairman, and includes Mrs. Henry L. McKiver. Many Tuxedolites have spent December in the city and have closed their Tuxedo villas until the winter sports open next month. Because so many of the villas have been closed on account of the coal shortage, those who have their homes open will do considerable entertaining over the week end.

Among those who will attend the dances are Mr. and Mrs. David Wagstaff, Miss Annette Tilford, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kip Rhineland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed, Colonel and Mrs. Frank Stevens Keesh, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Loucks, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Harker, Mr. and Mrs. Amory S. Carhart, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Baldwin, Miss Lucille Baldwin, Major Pierre Lorillard Jr., Mr. Pierre Lorillard Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Griswold Lorillard, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pell, Mr. and Mrs. John Munroe, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sloane Colt, Mr. and Mrs. William Stackpole, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Tams, Mr. and Mrs. George Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Livingston.

Others will include Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lansing McKiver, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Foster Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Wyllys Damscher Betts, Miss Harriet McKim, Mr. Alfred S. Dabney, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lorillard Barbois, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Kane, Mr. and Mrs. James Parker Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. ## Play Will Open Yale Holiday Season in City

Cast of Students Will Present
"Caesar and Cleopatra" on Thursday Night

Yale's holiday season will open Thursday night with the university dramatic association's New York presentation of Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" at the Heckscher Memorial Theater. A cast of more than sixty students will leave its classrooms that afternoon to bring to New York its interpretation of last year's prom play.

Invitations were issued last week by the executive committee of Yale Alumni for a smoker to be given Thursday for the student-actors at the Yale Club after the evening's performance. The Yale Alumni executive committee includes Mr. Stanley Burke, chairman; Mr. Charles H. Marshall, Mr. Ellery James, Mr. Almet S. Jenks, Mr. George Ades, Mr. Robert Mallory, Mr. Robert Lovett, Mr. Cole Porter and Mr. John-Fritz Achelt.

From the promptness with which responses have been received to cards announcing the fifth Aviators' Ball at the Hotel Astor, January 3, not only is society to be substantially represented, but there will be a vivid collegiate tinge to the affair. The committee, of which Colonel Laurence Driggs is general chairman, particularly arranged the date before the openings of the college semesters, so that college men interested in aviation could attend.

The floor committee will include the officers of the 102d Observation Squadron, the only National Guard flying squadron in the United States that is functioning and which has its headquarters at Miller Field. All these men have brilliant aviation records.

Among the matrons who have accepted for the ball are Mrs. Frederick T. Bedford, Mrs. J. Philip Benkart, Mrs. Frederick Brooks, Mrs. James Byrnes, Mrs. John B. ## Holiday Party Spirit Led by Royal Family

Queen Spends Much Time in Shops as Christmas Approaches; Princess in Town for a Few Days

Americans Figure In Many Events

Mrs. Medill McCormick
Is Entertained at a Dinner
by Lady Lavery

Special Cable to The Tribune
Copyright, 1922, New York Tribune, Inc.

LONDON, December 16. THIS week always is a full one in London, since Christmas shopping brings so many people from their country houses to town. The royal family has been visiting several theaters, and some of the members have been attending informal dinners, thus giving the lead to the Christmas party spirit here.

Unlike her predecessor, the Queen visits shops personally, and since her Christmas present list is long and she spends a good deal of time and thought selecting gifts, she has been making excursions to the West End shops almost every day. Princess Mary and her husband also came to London for a few days, though they returned from Chesterfield House to Harewood Hall, Yorkshire, before the end of the week. There they will stay over Christmas.

Princess Mary Buys Furniture for Nursery

Princess Mary spent virtually all her time shopping, the Queen and the Princess Royal assisting her in choosing many things, especially nursery furniture intended for Goldborough Hall. Since this is the Princess's last visit here for some weeks, she received a great number of calls from friends, though these were all of an informal character.

The Prince of Wales, like his brothers, has been making hasty plunges at the stores during his brief visits to York House, to which he returned from hunting. The hunt ball season is well under way, there having been no less than six held this week. Lady Marion Cameron gave a dance on Monday at which both the Duke of York and Prince Henry were present. Some guests at this affair included the Duchess of Sutherland, who is reputed to be one of the most beautiful of society women; the Hon. Richard and Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Dudley Ward.

Americans have figured in several affairs here this week, either as hosts or guests. Many attended the reception of the English Speaking Union early in the week, some of the hostesses being Lady Cynthia Moseley, Mrs. Alfred Lyttleton, Lady Bryce and Lady Swaythling. Among the many guests were Mrs. Frederick Manning, the former Miss Helen Taft. Lady Otto Beit was a hostess last Thursday, when she gave a dance at her house in Belgrave Square, which her husband bought from the late Duke of Richmond. She is the daughter of the late T. L. Carter, of New Orleans.

The celebration of her twenty-fifth wedding anniversary a short while ago her husband gave $50,000 to London hospitals to mark the event.

Mrs. Medill McCormick Entertained by Lady Lavery. Lady Lavery gave a dinner for Mrs. Medill McCormick early in the week. Mrs. McCormick is seeing many sides of London, and has been a visitor to the Ladies' Gallery of the House of Commons several times since her arrival here last week. Miss Cantelero has been giving a series of small dances at Claridge's Hotel and is planning to continue these until Christmas. Mrs. Harvey had arranged to give a big reception early in the week, but her illness prevented her coming to London. She is suffering from influenza, which attacked her while staying at Warwick Castle, and though she is getting better she still is too ill to travel, and probably will not be here until January.

The Corrigan, who have been entertaining many friends at Claridge's, have gone to St. Moritz. According to present arrangements they will stay there a few weeks and then go to Sicily and Italy, returning to London in the spring, to the house they have again taken from the Hon. Mrs. George Keppel. Another visitor for St. Moritz is Miss Millicent Rogers, who will leave here shortly for the winter sports.

The Mountbattens, who arrived in England last Saturday after a long honeymoon in the United States, have motored to Broadlands Park from Southampton. They will stay with Colonel Wilfred Ashley, M. P. Lady Louise's father, who is entertaining a small house party for them there. Miss Alice Preston, of New York, has been staying at Claridge's for a short time while getting her home at Windsor ready. She has taken a house from the Dean of Windsor which is within the walls of Windsor Castle.

Mrs. Norma G. Thwaites Takes Sir Tom Bridges's House. Another interesting American in London is Mrs. Norma G. Thwaites, the daughter of the late Mr. Frederick W. Whitridge, of New York, and the granddaughter of Matthew Arnold. She has
